CONSTITUTION.

PREAMBLE.

The Michigan Congregational Conference in voluntary fellowship for the promotion of the Church of Christ through common consecration and co-operation, makes confession of its devout faith in one God, our Father in Heaven, who has manifested himself to the world in Jesus Christ, His Son, our Lord, and in living fellowship abides in His children through His Spirit, our guide and comforter; and, believing that the principles of the Congregational system of church government are best adapted to the promotion of the welfare of the Christian church, and believing, moreover, that the extension and efficiency of the system would be greatly promoted by organizing a general Conference of the Congregational churches and ministers of Michigan, we therefore, to form such a Conference adopt the following ARTICLE II.

Object.—The object of this Conference shall be as stated in the Articles of Association. He shall furnish the Conference, the Board of Trustees, the Executive Committee, and the local associations any information required by them on all matters relating to his department. For these services he shall receive such compensation as the trustees shall direct.

(3) The registrar of each local association shall be requested by conference with the advisory committee of that association, or by correspondence with the churches, to gather and send to the registrar of this Conference, after the meeting of the local association next preceding the meeting of this Conference, such a statement of the facts regarding the progress of the churches and the methods of their life and work as he may be able to gather, and the registrar shall, from these statements and from other available sources, present to the Conference such a general view of methods, of efforts and of progress, or the contrary, as he shall judge best fitted to stimulate the life and work of the churches of the State.

He shall make an annual report of his doings to the Conference, accompanied by the auditor's certificate of the correctness of his accounts. If any exigency shall arise, which, in the unanimous opinion of the moderator, registrar and scribe, requires a special meeting of this body, or change in either the time or place of the annual meeting thereof, it shall be competent for these officers to call such special meeting, or to make such change upon giving thirty days' notice to the clerks of the churches and to the ministerial members. Notice of a special meeting must state its purpose.

RESOLUTION.

Resolution adopted at the annual meeting May 18-20, 1909: That the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees be held as a stated policy a day before the meeting of the State Conference for consultation and for action upon such matters as shall require attention.

RECOMMENDATION.

In accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Association and the Constitution of the Michigan Congregational Conference it is recommended to the churches and local associations that provision be made for the appointment of local advisory committees in the associations to act in conjunction with the trustees of the state body; it is also recommended that provision be made according to specifications given herewith for the examination, licensure and ordination of candidates for the ministry.

These recommendations pertain first to the appointment of local association advisory committees. It is recommended:

I. That each local association appoint a committee, to be called the Advisory Committee, consisting of five members, of which the Moderator and Registrar of the associations shall be members ex officio, and three other members, to be elected at the annual meeting, as follows: At the first election one member to be elected for one year, one for two years and one for three years; and thereafter one to be elected each year to serve three years. It is urged that special care be taken to secure the most competent membership for the Committee.

II. The functions of this Committee to be—

1. To know the churches and ministers within the bounds of the association, their character, needs, and conditions, and to keep a record of the same corrected to date and filed with the registrar.

2. To hold itself in readiness at all times to assist, inform, advise, and suggest, upon request, in cases where a change of pastorate, the organization of a church, the consolidation of fields or other exigencies affecting the common welfare of our churches, may call for such action.

3. To be in active and constant communication with the Board of Trustees of the State Conference; filing with it its local information; gathering from its larger files wider information; reporting to it at once any changes in fields or men; making investigation at its request, and aiding in all possible ways its effort to know our Congregational life.

4. To act in conjunction with the pastor of the church where a meeting of the association is to be held, as the program committee; with a view to suggesting, from its knowledge of the field, vital and practical topics, presenting plans of progress or extension, and increasing the interest among both clerical and lay members of our churches, in the meetings and work of the association.

5. To be the Missionary Committee of the association.

These recommendations pertain second, to ordination and examination on the Course of Study.

I. Inasmuch as under our present system ministerial standing vests in the local association, it is recommended that to the same body be accorded the function of passing, after due examination, upon the credentials and fitness of candidates for ordination. It is suggested that the procedure be as follows:

1. A church, seeking to induct into its pastorate a man who has not been ordained, may present the candidate for examination at a meeting of the local association with which the church is connected; notice of such intention having been previously given to the Registrar and printed on the program of the association meeting.

2. The said association to examine the candidate thus presented in regard to his intellectual, moral and spiritual fitness for the ministry, and if approved, to present a certificate of such approval to him and to the church presenting him.

3. Upon the basis of such certificate the church to proceed, either then or thereafter, to the ordination of the candidate through a council of fellowship; the same being either the association or a group of churches selected by the church and the candidate.

II. Inasmuch as this Conference has provided a course of study for those applicants for ordination who have not received collegiate and seminary education, it is recommended that, for the sake of uniformity, the examination of candidates on this course of study be conducted by a committee of the State Conference; and that the certificate of said committee that he has completed this course satisfactorily shall be required in all such cases by the local associations before it proceed to his examination for ordination.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE CHURCHES.

Your registrar wishes he could, as he discloses the statistics for the year past, make such use of them by drawing comparisons and by marking dis-similarities with those of earlier years, as in former years has been done by that peerless secretary, Rev. John P. Sanderson.

But because of unfamiliarity with other year statistics one can only present those of more immediate concern and ask that they be allowed to tell their own story.

GAINS AND LOSSES.

The churches number 327, a loss of four. Four churches have been added during the year. Two by organization—Long Rapids and Ironwood, the former a strictly community church, the latter a Swedish-Finnish church; a third church, that of Jackson street Muskegon—this church was dropped from the roll of churches some years ago but now re-appears; a fourth, Trinity of Alpine and Walker, formed by a union of the Baptist and Congregational churches of that place. All of these churches are vigorous and promising. In each instance the organization has been the outgrowth of positive community needs. The total membership of the four churches added is about 150. On the other hand the churches lost from the roll represent practically no loss in membership. The names of eight churches have been dropped from the roll, Alpine Centre, Luzerne, Ryno, Whittaker, Berryville, Kinderhook, St. Ignace and Jerome. Several of these have been retained for a number of years merely to protect the property interests of the Church Building Society.

MEMBERSHIP.

Our church membership totals 32,838, a loss of 110. This, notwithstanding the fact that the number of additions, both on confession of faith and by letter, exceed those of last year. Those received on confession of faith number 1,641; those by letter 1,135, a gain over last year's additions of 212. Removals, however, more than offset the gain. We sustain by death a loss of 379; by dismission, 1093; while by revision we record the unparalleled loss of 1,414, as compared with 519 during 1908. This presents for study an interesting and serious problem. If we analyze the situation we shall find that the explanation lies largely in our list of absent members. We have 304 less on our absent list this year than was reported two years ago, and this year our absent list numbers 4,624. It is of interest to note in this connection that with the reported decrease in our list of absent members we have made a slight gain over last year in resident members. It remains to be said that, until as a denomination we shall learn to more wisely conserve our forces, we may anticipate such losses as are revealed in this year's revision list.

The year has not been notable for large ingatherings. The reception of new members has been general rather than exceptional. Accessions calling for special mention have occurred at Bellaire, Butternut, Cleon and Marrilla, Lowell, Conklin, Red Jacket, Traverse City First and Wheatland. With few exceptions these accessions represent the fruits of normal church activity, pastoral evangelism and faithful Bible school service. To learn how to make the most effective use of our normal religious forces is the opportunity of the church and ministry today.

The revision of our church rolls as already intimated has reached an unparalleled total this year. Several of the larger churches such as Saginaw First, Grand Rapids Park, Kalamazoo, Detroit North Woodward Ave., etc., have by simultaneous revision brought the number to its significant proportions.

Many of the smaller churches have also revised their lists, and we face the startling fact of having dropped from our rolls an actual five per cent. of our total membership. We may well ask ourselves the question, What can we do to prevent this recurring loss?

The total number of baptisms reported, 1,428, exceeds that of any year since 1902, the number of infant baptisms having been exceeded but once before, and that last year, the number for this year, 694, coming within three of that of last year. That this indicates a growing realization of the value of Christian nurture we may assume, but the gain is not marked enough to lend very much significance to the thought.

The Sunday School membership as reported is 36,621, a loss of 123. The number of families is greater than last year by 232. From 140 young people's societies, 6,035 members are reported, a loss of 379. It is the judgment of the registrar that many organizations in the churches among the young people are doing splendid work in Christian culture, from which practically no reports are given. One would urge that the churches make more adequate reports of such organizations as may be meeting the broader social and religious needs of their young people.

THE BENEVOLENCES.

The gifts for the year in the support of the denominational and other benevolent causes reached the grand total of $95,777, a gain over last year of $22,523. Of the total, Foreign Missions received $43,992, including a single legacy of over $30,000; Education received $6,121; Church Building $6,421; Home Missions $18,638; Sunday School work $5,323; Ministerial Aid $1,710; other benevolences $9,265. The registrar would call attention to the incompleteness and inaccuracies of the annual statistical reports made by the churches, especially in regard to the benevolences. A difference of over $8,000 was found this year by comparing the reports sent in by the churches, with the amounts credited to them in the printed publications.

It is worthy of mention in connection with our benevolent gifts to call attention to the fact that the gifts from all sources in Michigan toward the Together Campaign amounted to the sum of $5,655.72. The Registrar is of the opinion that in many instances these gifts were not included in the reports sent in by the churches, although there seemed to be no adequate means whereby he could determine the matter with certainty.

MATERIAL GAINS.

Home expenses reach the total of $360,916; value of church property

$2,451,008. There has been marked activity along lines of material progress. New churches have been completed at Clare and Fayette and others are in process of construction at Atlanta, East Lansing, Isabella, Middleville, Pontiac and Grand Rapids East. Parsonages have been purchased or erected at Bellaire, Conklin, Lake Linden, Merrill, Newaygo, Ovid and Oxford. Parish houses have been built at Union City and St. Joseph, and at Traverse City First church has opened up club rooms with equipment costing $3,000. Extensive repairs have been made in the church buildings at Honor and Howard City. The work at Benzonia has received fresh impetus by the erection of the new academy building to take the place of the one destroyed by fire. The building has been dedicated as Mills Hall, in honor of the splendid man who, as pastor of the Benzonia church, has been tireless in his work for the well-being of the Academy.

During the year $22,375 in legacies was received by the churches as follows: Ada, $100; Armada, $200; Cheboygan, $75; Grand Rapids Park, $5,000; Manistee, $2,000; Muskegon First, $15,000.

THE MINISTERIAL RANKS.

Losses from our ordained pastoral force have been serious. We have relinquished eighteen pastors, as follows: G. G. Atkins, A. L. Allison, Amos E. Cragg, George W. Dell, James O. Fisher, F. L. Graff, J. H. Hull, James Hyslop, Alexander McLennox, J. A. Russnell, H. C. Snyder, H. O. Spelman, A. F. Soule, Jonathan Turner, Frank G. Ward, Wayne L. Waters, Francis D. White, and A. E. Woodruff.

There have been twenty-one additions to our pastoral force, a net gain of three. The additions are as follows: E. W. Bishop, W. B. Dickinson, Robert Goldsmith, Mandus Barrett, J. C. Townsend, W. A. Wilkinson, F. M. Woodmansee, M. F. Scouten, J. G. Clutterbuck, L. E. Hague, Franklin Lines, C. C. Lowther, J. E. Foote, C. W. Davis, F. C. Laslette, and C. I. Taylor, who resumes active service after several years spent in the practice of medicine. Five brethren have been received into the ministerial ranks by ordination: Wm. Steensma, Gordon C. Speer, Edrie Collins, O. N. Beldin, and F. W. Sass. In each instance these men were ordained by the local association acting as the ordaining council. The conviction seems to be strengthening that authority to ordain should be vested in the same body which is responsible for ministerial standing and fellowship.

A SOURCE OF SUPPLY.

One of the striking features of our work in the state, and a feature involving much of consequence to the welfare of our work, is that of the unordained men serving our churches in the capacity of licentiates. It is a source of much satisfaction and at the same time the ground of some concern that so large a number of those added to our regularly ordained pastors come through the channel of the licentiate. A source of satisfaction because this seems to be a hopeful method of supplying a large number of our churches; a source of some concern in that it means a lessening number of our pastors who have taken the regular college and seminary work in preparation for the ministry. During the year we have had 40 licentiates serving a total of 54 churches. Five of these have been ordained; five others have gone out of the work, leaving 30 licentiates at present serving a total of 35 churches, and pursuing the course of study provided by the State Conference.

One would say that a general survey of the church conditions in Michigan reveals three distinct phases of our denominational life:

I. RE-ADJUSTMENT OF MACHINERY.

With this phase of our activities this report has little to do. Our superintendent has wrought tirelessly to effect a more positive and practical fellowship among the churches. The new denominational machinery has made this more hopeful of realization. The superintendent's report will cover this important phase of our denominational life. Nevertheless, the registrar would say one word at the risk of the repetition involved. It is one thing to recognize a problem; another to effect a solution. The need of a more compact and wieldy organization has been generally recognized by thoughtful persons in our denomination. The re-adjustment of our denominational machinery has made possible the solution of this problem. And to the extent that the churches and ministers have taken advantage of the opportunities afforded for a co-operative fellowship, to that extent have we met this wide-felt need. The best organization is helpless only as intelligent life finds virile expression through that organization.

II. RE-ALIGNMENT OF ACTIVITIES.

The second phase of our denominational life that arrests our thought is that of adapting our working forces to new conditions and opportunities.

It is evident that some of our churches and our denominational leaders have been acting on the judgment that the churches should enter many spheres of activity hitherto disregarded by them to a great extent. From many directions we hear of churches accepting the challenge of the community to meet the more general needs of the community life. We hear of church buildings being kept open throughout the week for social and literary culture. We receive reports of the building of parish houses, with the community needs in mind.

We hear of churches opening their parlors and auditoriums to various gatherings of a civic character. We hear of rural churches that are seeking to make themselves centers of the most varied of rural interests. We record a demand among the rural churches for men in the pulpit who shall not only have the power of leadership in religious thought, but who shall likewise be wise counsellors in regard to the most varied of community affairs. We make note of churches in our cities that regard their mission as going far beyond the mere maintenance of places of worship. Questions involving social, industrial, educational and economic problems are considered with a growing sense of the responsibility of the church. In all this there are strong indications that the churches are rising to the challenge of the time. It is the challenge of the twentieth century. The churches do not feel that there is any other gospel than that of Jesus Christ. That which was the good news of God in the first century remains the good news of God in the twentieth century. We have not outlived, nor can we, the Divine teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. But, we are coming to believe that the principles of life as taught by Him need to find new interpretation, new emphasis and new expression. And so in many ways we witness the old desire to serve finding expression in new and wider activities, and in the realm of the church, as in the civic and industrial realms, we bear witness to the fact that "the old order changeth."

III. ADEQUATE EXPRESSION OF A VITAL FAITH.

It is not difficult, therefore, to gather from even a hurried review of the past decade or two that perceptibly less importance is being attached to the letter of any creed.

The churches are not declaring this to be unimportant, but relatively unimportant. "By their fruits ye shall know them" embodies the principle by which a church or an individual is adjudged worthy or unworthy. We are coming to measure men and institutions more by their deeds than by their creeds. We are coming to demand of ourselves a creed that speaks not so much in certain articles of faith as in various dependable activities, sane methods of life, and worthy achievements.

We are declaring the need not so much of set standards by which to fix intellectual conceptions, as by fixed principles by which to determine conduct. We are trying less to relate present day thinking to old time interpretation, than to discover to men the secret of reverence and the presence of the Divine. All this is slowly emerging in our common life. We are gradually learning to relate enthusiasm to activities, energy to achievements, and sentiment to results. We are becoming impatient of uncertainty and inertia, and are coming to demand of ourselves concrete evidence of a virile faith.

And yet is it strange that during the time of the readjustment of activities, the realignment of forces and the re-expression of faith that there is a time in a measure barren of apparent results and shorn of rapid growth? We may expect to feel the reaction of uncertainty and to note the effect of hesitancy. The vehicle must slacken its speed at the turn of the road. We may not hope to at once swing ourselves free from the old methods, from life-long habits and age-long prejudices, nor can we hope to bring into the most effective use the new means at hand, awkward because new. And so in the interim there may be losses, perhaps losses that are mostly seeming. Some times we need to lose that we may gain; if it be weight that we may gain momentum, if it be organization that we may find a new life. For after all the best institutions exist as means to the end—that of establishing upon earth the kingdom of God in the hearts of men.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

OFFICE WORK.

In his endeavor to respond to a growing opportunity to serve the pastors and churches, your superintendent has found it necessary during the past year to spend more time at his desk. He has been in the office, on an average, slightly more than three and one-half days each week, except during the vacation month of August. His correspondence has greatly increased, and the variety of it has covered a wide range. There have gone out under his direction no less than 12,000 pieces of mail, an average of 72 pieces per day for the days he has been in the office. A large part of his correspondence, and an exceedingly important part of it, has pertained to the Ministerial Bureau. More than 1,500 letters have been written in trying to bring ministers and pastorless churches together. Through the direct efforts of the bureau 45 ministers have been secured as pastors of 64 churches. Many of these churches are small and probably would have gone without pastoral service or would have been preyed upon by ministerial tramps, had it not been for the aid thus given. In addition to this direct service, a large amount of aid has been rendered in the way of counsel and co-operation where the initiative was taken by the churches. Through the work of this bureau the number of pastorless churches has been greatly diminished. At present the number of vacant fields where churches are ready to receive pastors does not exceed 15, and negotiations are pending which will probably reduce the number in a short time to ten. This, of course, does not take into consideration about a score of dormant churches where regular services have not been maintained for years, and where conditions make it practically impossible to secure the regular services of a pastor.

FIELD WORK.

The amount and variety of work done in the field has also greatly increased. The Superintendent has traveled 13,355 miles, has made 90 visits to churches, has attended 20 associations and delivered 118 public addresses. In addition, he has held many important conferences with church committees, with Local Advisory Committees, with other committees and groups of workers in all parts of the state, and in several instances outside of the state. General Missionary, C. B. Fellows, has traveled 13,317 miles, has made 177 visits to churches, about 830 personal calls, and 122 public addresses. Sunday-school Missionary C. H. Harger, has traveled 11,450 miles of which 1,121 were afoot; he has made 125 visits to churches, 60 visits to Sunday-schools, and 1,250 personal calls; he has organized 14 Sunday-schools, reorganized 4 Sunday-schools, and has made 197 public addresses. The total field service amounts in round numbers to 38,000 miles of travel, 450 visits to churches and Sunday-schools, 2,000 personal calls, and 425 addresses. The service has been of the most varied kind. While not neglecting invitations from the stronger churches, special attention has been given to the weak and pastorless churches, some of which have been dormant for years. In some cases these visits have been repeated every few weeks; in others our missionaries have remained in one field for several weeks at a time, conducting special meetings and visiting from house to house. This work has always been done in co-operation with the pastor unless the church was pastorless; in that case everything possible has been done to prepare the church to secure a pastor. This extensive visitation is, in a large way, under the direction of the Superintendent with a view to that economy and efficiency which can be attained only by unified effort. No fields are being overlooked and there is no over-lapping of work.

LOCAL ASSOCIATION BOUNDARY LINES.

The recommendation of the Conference at its last session regarding changes in the boundary lines of the Local Associations has been carefully considered. The recommendation does not affect the Lake Superior Association. The other two associations of the Upper Peninsula, the Gladstone and the Sault Ste Marie, voted to approve the recommendations provided, that on careful consideration the consolidation should prove to be practicable. The consolidation, however, has been found to be impracticable. The associations are too far apart to yoke in any way except in name, as the nearest churches are 93 miles apart, and the farthest churches about 200 miles apart. The Grand Traverse and the Genesee Associations voted against the recommendation. The Olivet Association voted that the Moderator and Registrar should together issue to the Churches and Ministers letters of recommendation to the new associations to which they would respectively belong, and that the association should then be declared disbanded. The remaining associations voted to adopt the recommendation of the Conference in the main with the understanding that the adjustment of details be left to the various Local Advisory Committees in conference with State Board of Trustees, the entire matter to be submitted afterwards to the churches for their approval. Much interest has been aroused in almost all the local associations and various views have been expressed. The Conferences that have been held by the superintendent with a number of the Local Advisory Committees have emphasized the impracticability of carrying out the recommendations except in the most general manner. Inasmuch as any change in the number of local associations will make a corresponding change in the representation on the State Board of Trustees, it is evident that the whole matter should go over for another year so that the changes may take place simultaneously throughout the state.

In the meantime a renewed effort has been made to increase the attendance and interest in the meetings of the local associations. Acting on the advice of the Executive Committee the superintendent wrote to all the pastors and clerks of the churches several weeks in advance of the spring meeting of each local association suggesting that in view of our lack of centralized authority a special effort should be made to realize the full advantages of a voluntary fellowship by having each church represented by its pastor and the full quota of delegates. The letters seem to have accomplished their purpose, for in almost every instance the attendance was greatly increased and the interest was unusually good. The remark was frequently made, "If we could only hold the interest to this level there would be no need of enlarging our boundary lines in order to increase our fellowship." The present indication is that the changes in boundary lines will be much less radical than was recommended by the State Conference. The discussion of the matter, however, will serve a good purpose in clearing the air and in enabling us to see just where the responsibility lies.

THE APPORTIONMENT PLAN.

The apportionment plan recommended by the Conference at its last session has received careful consideration in most of the local associations. The following associations have reported to the superintendent as having adopted the plan: Eastern, Grand Rapids, Grand Traverse, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lake Superior, Lansing, Muskegon, North Central and Southern. Some of the associations have deferred action until this fall, and it appears that in a few associations no action has been taken.

It is too early to speak in a large way of encouraging results, though many hopeful expressions have been received from pastors of churches which have adopted the plan. On the other hand there has been considerable confusion growing out of the failure to comprehend the exact purpose of the plan. The suggestion has gone to some of the churches that the main purpose of the plan is, to divide the sum total of benevolences paid by each church, among the seven societies according to the percentage basis representing the comparative needs of each society, with the understanding that if a church fails to meet its apportionment in full the various societies will share in the deficiency. In other words, the emphasis was not placed upon the need of an increase in benevolences, but upon the supposed need of a new distribution of benevolences. It soon became apparent that many of our churches were planning to diminish their gifts to Home Missions in order to increase their gifts to the other societies. This condition led the Superintendent on March 4 to send a circular letter to the churches calling attention to the fact that should such a course be pursued, it would greatly imperil our state work. Your Superintendent has been very careful, however, on all occasions, while seeking to safe-guard our state interests, not in any way to discredit the Apportionment Plan. When the purpose of the plan is rightly understood it must commend itself.

COUNTRY PASTORS' INSTITUTE.

A meeting of unique character was the Country Pastors' Institute held under the sanction of the Board of Trustees at Chippewa Lake July 14-21. The purpose of the Institute was to bring together into an intimate fellowship the pastors of our country and village churches to spend a week in studying the problems peculiar to their parishes. The smallest attendance was 20, the largest 30. The superintendent, the general missionary, the Sunday School missionary, a few ex-missionary pastors and several representatives of the State Board of Trustees were present. Lodging was furnished free in the homes of the villagers and all boarded together in one family at 50 cents a day. A fund of about $90 was contributed by the churches which was applied so as to bring the expenses of each person present within $10 for the nine days' outing.

The services of the day began with morning prayers at the close of breakfast, and after an interval of an hour the program began at the church. The conferences were all held in the morning; the afternoons were kept free for recreation; the evenings were given over to public services of a popular character, and on Sunday special services were held in five or six different nearby places. The program was of the simplest character. Each meeting had a different presiding officer and equal prominence was given to each person present. The topics discussed were mainly those which had been suggested in advance by the pastors themselves. Each address was limited to fifteen minutes which was followed by a discussion of thirty minutes. In the middle of each session thirty minutes was given to Bible study. Fifteen subjects were considered during the week and each one was discussed on an average by ten persons. So helpful was the meeting felt to be in many ways that a hearty and unanimous vote was given in favor of holding another Institute this year. Arrangements are now being made to hold the Institute at Honor for the week beginning July 19.

CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

The circulating library has been enriched by the addition of more than one hundred volumes. A few of these books were donated by pastors, but most of them were bought new, and were paid for out of the library fund. The cash receipts for the year have been as follows: Membership dues $70; personal gifts $25. The membership is at present ninety. The Library contains duplicate copies of all the books in the State Course of Study, a choice selection of books pertaining to missions and to Sunday school work, together with a large number of the best religious and theological publications of recent years. As additions are being made to the Library and its merits are becoming better known, its use is increasing.

HOME MISSIONS.

The Home Missionary activity of the year may be set forth in outline in the following exhibit: The number of churches and out-stations supplied by home missionary pastors 106; the number of missionaries commissioned for the whole or part of the year 77; the number who have ministered to a single congregation 30; the number who have ministered to two or more congregations 47; the total months of service rendered 625. Four churches have come to self-support: Addison, Central Lake, Cleon and Marilla and Old Mission. Three churches have asked that their Home Missionary grants be reduced: Breckenridge, Conklin and Rapid River. One church in the Home Missionary field has been organized. The work which has been carried on among the Swedish-Finnish people at Ironwood for several years has resulted in the organization of a church which was received into the fellowship of the Lake Superior Association at its spring meeting. The membership is not large, but it consists of a devoted band of Christian people who are working hard and making many sacrifices in order to secure a church home. The church is being supplied by a student from Chicago, but is expecting to have the regular services of a pastor in the fall. In this connection mention should also be made of the Jackson Street church, Muskegon, which, after being in a dormant condition for about ten years, has been revived and reorganized, and now appears again on our roll as an active church. The outlook for the church is very hopeful. Church buildings have been erected, or are in process of erection at Atlanta, East Lansing, Fayette, Ironwood, Isabella. Extensive improvements have also been made on our churches at Muskegon Highland Park, Honor, Howard City and Newaygo. Parsonages have been purchased or are in process of erection at Bellaire, Conklin, Newaygo and Merrill. Two fields formerly on the Home Missionary schedule are not now receiving aid: Ada, which has become self-supporting by yoking with East Paris, and the churches of East Lake, Onekema and Pleasanton which, after being without pastors for many years, have combined into one large circuit and are receiving very effective pastoral oversight. The following churches have been added to the Home Missionary schedule: Highland Park and Jackson Street, Muskegon, Newaygo and Royal Oak. Special exigencies in each case called for aid, but it is believed that the grants can be reduced next year without suffering to the churches.

The financial exhibit will be presented by our treasurer. The year has been an anxious one. Every effort has been made to keep the churches informed of the general situation throughout the state and to stimulate their offerings so that there might be no falling off. There have been three strong influences at work diverting gifts from the ordinary Home Missionary channels: 1. The Together Campaign to which our churches of Michigan contributed nearly $6000; 2. the Apportionment Plan to which reference has been made; 3. the Local Option Campaign to which large contributions were made by our churches. Nevertheless, a comparison with last year shows a gain along several lines. Last year 120 churches gave less than their apportionment; this year the number is 117, a gain of 3. Last year 68 churches met their apportionments in full; this year the number is 73, a gain of 5. Last year 58 churches gave nothing; this year the number is 55, a gain of 3. Gifts were also received from 20 churches to which no apportionments were made. The small churches as a rule show the greatest zeal in meeting their apportionments in full; it is the exception when any of the Home Missionary churches fall behind in this respect.

The exhibit by Local Associations is interesting: Four associations have exceeded their apportionments; Cheboygan, Detroit, Gladstone and Muskegon. The following associations, while not meeting their apportionments, have gone ahead of last year: Genesee, Grand Traverse, Lake Superior and North Central. Notwithstanding this good showing the total receipts from the churches fall below last year to the amount of $350. This deficiency, was caused by two of our large churches which in adopting the apportionment plan, found it convenient to change their Home Missionary year, making it coincide with the calendar year. These two churches have been in the habit of paying their apportionment in full, and they promise to do so this year before December 31. Had these payments not been postponed the total receipts from the churches would have exceeded the receipts of last year by about $100.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MISSIONS.

Vigorous work has been carried on all year by our Sunday-school Missionary, C. H. Harger. He has confined his labors largely to the Upper Peninsula and to the northern part of the Lower Peninsula. He has visited nearly all the older branch-schools and has explored a large amount of new territory in which some very promising schools have been organized. Great care has been taken to relate new schools to our neighboring churches and as far as possible, to place them under the fostering care of our pastors. This has been done to assure the life of the school and at the same time to multiply the feeders of the churches. The present number of branch-schools is 48, with a total enrollment of 1681; a gain for the year of 16 schools with 403 members.

CHURCH BUILDING SOCIETY.

In pursuance of the policy referred to last year the Church Building Society has been in active co-operation with your Superintendent in seeking to dispose of some pieces of church property which are not likely to be used again. After a careful examination made by Rev. John P. Sanderson, our former State Registrar, who is now commissioned by the Church Building Society as its special representative, the following church properties have been sold: Croton, Jerome, Kinderhook and St. Ignace. These churches have been dormant and have made no reports for years. Other properties are being carefully investigated and negotiations are pending which will probably result in disposing of them in the near future.

CONCLUSION.

Reference was made last year in the Superintendent's report to the need of developing a greater interest in the work of the Local Association and of magnifying the importance of the Local Advisory Committee. It is a pleasure to be able to state that a distinct gain has been registered in this respect. The Local Advisory Committees generally are showing greater zeal in their efforts to serve the churches; they are meeting oftener as committees and are holding more frequent conferences with the churches. The churches are learning the great importance of this new element in our polity and are showing an increasing disposition to avail themselves of it. A cordial attitude also is maintained toward our state workers; the services of our General Missionary, C. B. Fellows, and our Sunday-school Missionary, C. H. Harger, are in constant demand and are greatly appreciated. Great consideration has also been shown your Superintendent by both pastors and churches for which he returns hearty thanks. Altogether, the most helpful feature in our state work for the past year is the abundant evidence of a growing appreciation of practical fellowship by our pastors and churches, that we may put on more strength for service.

J. W. SUTHERLAND, Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE STATE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees of the Michigan Congregational Conference submits the following report:

There is cause for profound gratitude that the Michigan plan of serving the pastors and churches for the purpose of building up throughout the state a more cohesive and efficient Congregational fellowship, has fully justified all reasonable expectations in the work of the past year. As knowledge regarding the practical working of the plan grows, appreciation of it increases. There has been apparent very little, if any, apprehension, that this centralized plan of Oversight and Fellowship was in any way endangering either the autonomy of the churches or the rights of the pastors. On the other hand emphatic commendation of the plan has been repeatedly expressed, and an increasing number of pastors and churches have been glad to avail themselves of the help which the local association and state organizations have been able to render. At the same time that Michigan Congregationalism has been intent on solving her own problems and discharging her own responsibilities, she has exerted an influence along lines of reconstruction which have been felt throughout the entire land. So great has been this influence that the Michigan plan was taken as the basis of the report of the committee on polity which was unanimously adopted by the National Council in Cleveland in 1907. Previous to this spring, the Michigan plan had been adopted, in a modified form, by the four associations of Ohio, Wisconsin, Northern California and Southern California. At their annual meeting held within the last few weeks five other western states swung into line, viz.: Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and South Dakota. Still other states have the Michigan plan under consideration and will vote upon its adoption at their next meeting. This wide spread and growing recognition of the value of the Michigan plan, should stimulate us as pastors and churches to familiarize ourselves thoroughly with its purpose and provisions, and to co-operate heartily with each other in the practical working out of the plan, that we may achieve a much larger efficiency in our efforts, as a great denomination in Michigan, to advance the best interests of the kingdom.

The enlarged opportunities for service have made unusually heavy demands upon our state workers, both in the Lansing office and in the field. This condition was foreseen by your Board last year, and in its last report the belief was expressed that, as the knowledge of the practical workings of the plan increased, more work and greater responsibility would be entailed upon the state force. Interesting details concerning the important work of the year have been given in the report of the Superintendent.

All matters pertaining to the corporate welfare of Congregational Michigan that have been brought to the attention of the Board have received careful consideration.

The agreement with the Congregational Sunday-School and Publishing Society has been renewed for another year from March 1, 1910. This agreement provides for the joint appointment and joint support of a field man to organize and develop the state Sunday-school work under the direction of the State Board of Trustees. All funds received from the state except individual gifts for special purposes are to be divided equally between the Sunday-School and Publishing Society and the Michigan Congregational Conference. All appeals to the churches and Sunday-Schools for funds will be made through the Congregational Rooms, Lansing, and the churches and Sunday-schools will be encouraged to send their offerings to that office. All offerings will be acknowledged in the publications of the Sunday School and Publishing Society.

The readjustment of the local association boundary lines has been considered by all the local associations. For reasons given in the report of the superintendent the matter cannot be finally adjusted until next year. Your board suggests that the subject be kept alive in each local association, and that the utmost effort be made to effect such a settlement as will insure to each church in the state the largest measure of practical fellowship.

The confusion in many churches incident to the installing of the Apportionment Plan which, in some instances, led to the diversion of funds formerly given to the state work, was perhaps not wholly unexpected. The purpose of the plan is to increase very substantially the sum total of gifts to our seven Congregational benevolences and to divide this increase according to a percentage basis so that when the total sum is realized each society will be in possession of an enlarged income sufficient for its needs. It was foreign to the purpose of the Executive Committee that formulated the plan, that a church should diminish its regular gifts to one society and increase them to another society in order that all its offerings might be distributed according to a fixed percentage. The budget for our state work is based upon the average gifts of the churches for a reasonable term of years. If these gifts should suddenly be diminished it is evident that the state work would suffer. We consider it fortunate that our superintendent was quick to detect the situation and prompt in putting the churches on their guard, so that no serious injury was done to our state work. But while thus urging our churches to safeguard carefully our state interests, your board strongly commends the Apportionment Plan, as it commended it last year, and renews its recommendation that a serious effort be made by every local association and church in the state to adopt it.

The unique Institute for Country Pastors, which was held last summer impresses your Board as possessing great and varied possibilities for good. The contributions made by a few churches and individuals in order to insure the holding of the Institute, were worthily bestowed. The project of holding another Institute this summer is regarded with great favor.

The report of the Committee on Examination and Course of Study recommending the adoption of a new course of study for licentiates, has been carefully considered by your Board, and has received its hearty approval. The report will be presented by the Committee later in the session.

Great and annoying confusion has arisen many times during the year from the fact that the Conference year terminates March 31, while the fiscal year of the Woman's Home Missionary Union and the fiscal year also of many of the churches terminates December 31. The only way to relieve the confusion is for the Conference to adopt the calendar year beginning January 1 and ending December 31. There is another reason why this change should be made. Many churches take their annual offerings for Home Missions on Easter. When Easter comes at the end of the period it is always necessary for the state treasurer to hold the books open for a month. This occurs at the busiest time of the year for the Lansing office when the pressure is great in preparing reports for the annual meeting. Furthermore, when the weather is stormy on Easter the attendance is reduced and the offering suffers greatly. If the year were to close December 31, ample time would be given to make up the deficiency; besides, the period of nearly two months at the end of the year after the Local Associations have all held their meetings, would furnish better opportunity for the Lansing office to keep in touch with the churches.

Your Board makes the following recommendations:

1. That the following resolution be adopted:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the by-laws of the Michigan Congregational Conference be, and are, hereby amended by inserting after by-laws 8 another by-law to stand as by-law 9, and to read as follows:

The fiscal year of the Michigan Congregational Conference shall begin on the first day of January and shall coincide with the calendar year. Provided, however, that this by-law shall not be understood to affect in any manner the time of holding the annual meeting, or of the election of officers, or of the beginning or ending of the term for which officers are elected.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That we advise all the churches to adopt the calendar year.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the numerals of by-laws 9 and 10 be changed to 10 and 11 respectively.

2. That the percentage basis in the division of funds for home missions contributed by Michigan to the State and National Societies be as follows: 85 per cent. to be given to the Michigan Congregational Conference and 15 per cent. to the Congregational Home Missionary Society up to $19,000, exclusive of legacies, and that all sums above $19,000, except such as are pledged for special purposes, shall be given to the National Society.

3. That Superintendent J. W. Sutherland succeed himself at his present compensation.

4. That the Conference levy, four cents per member upon the churches for the expense of the State Conference and the National Council.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON NECROLOGY.

EDWIN WATTS SHAW

Was born in Hill, N. H., July 19th, 1822. The family moved in 1828 to Franklin, the home of Daniel Webster, where Mr. Shaw grew up in the same surroundings in which that statesman lived. The life of Webster was an inspiration throughout the life of Mr. Shaw, who became an enthusiastic abolitionist. Mr. Shaw was a direct descendant of Thomas and Hannah Dustin, persons celebrated in colonial history. Benjamin Shaw, Edwin's father, was a pioneer of Jackson county, where he moved in 1834. Edwin worked on the farm, but while he followed the plow and split rails, he held before himself as an ideal the statesmanship of Franklin, and decided to secure an education and become a public man. He was educated at Jackson Academy at Grass Lake, completing his preparation for college at Lodi Academy. He studied the classics at the State University, from which he was graduated with the class of 1852. During this time he became acquainted with some of the most prominent men in the state, among them being L. Smith Hobart, a man renowned in the religious history of Michigan. The abolitionist movement in Boston drew him to that city a year later. While there he visited his uncle, Edward Shaw, for many years architect of Boston. He took part in the movement for the emancipation of slaves, and recalled with interest in his old age riots caused when runaway slaves were taken from the city and returned to their southern owners. Mr. Shaw entered Andover Seminary to study theology, but left his studies in 1854. Returning to Jackson he accompanied his venerable father to the famous convention "Under the Oaks," where the Republican party was formed. Mr. Shaw then went into newspaper work, and used his pen vigorously against political corruption. Then he returned to preaching, and continued his religious work until three years ago. Mr. Shaw was an unselfish and enthusiastic religious worker, and identified with every movement for the good of the community in which he lived. Especially did he make great sacrifices in his endeavor to assist in church building, and when he was no longer able to preach he was without worldly means, and during the last years of his life he became a beneficiary of the Fund for the Relief of Ministers. He never regretted having devoted his life to the good of humanity, and it was one of the comforts of his closing years to know that he had the honor to be the oldest living graduate of the University of Michigan. His last days were spent in a home which had been found for him at Hastings, Mich., where he died June 7th, 1909. He is survived by several children and a grandson in Grand Rapids.

REV. KENDRICK HERBERT CRANE.

Rev. Kendrick H. Crane, son of Rev. James L. and Arabella M. Crane, was born in Parma, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, November 22, 1845, and died November 19, 1908. He was converted in Oberlin, Ohio, at the age of twelve years, under the ministry of Rev. Chas. G. Finney, during the great revival of 1857. In 1864 he removed to Morenci, Mich., where his father became pastor of the Congregational church. He spent two years in study at Olivet College, Mich., after which he attended Oberlin College and Seminary, finishing his work there in 1872. In the month of April, 1872, he accepted a call to the Congregational church at Hartland. October 28th of the same year he was married to Miss Emma F. Mercer, daughter of Deacon C. H. and Mrs. Catherine Mercer of Hartland. In his wife he found a devoted helpmate in all departments of church life. He was ordained to the christian ministry March 4, 1874, and served as pastor in the churches of Goodrich, Ransom, Napoleon, Pinckney and Addison in Michigan; also the churches at North Amherst, Chatham and New London in Ohio.

While pastor at New London he lost his sight and was obliged to relinquish his chosen and much loved work of the christian ministry. He resigned his pastorate in the fall of 1893 and came to his home in Pinckney, where he lived for thirteen years, then becoming unable to attend to business, through physical disability, he retired to the home farm of his devoted wife at Hartland, where he began his ministry and there also closed his useful life of twenty-five years of active ministry. The other ten years he scattered seed by the wayside as opportunity came to him. He was an honored minister of God, a faithful husband, friend and brother—to know him was to love him.

REV. STEPHEN O. BRYANT.

In 1837, at Farmersville, N. Y., the life of Stephen O. Bryant had its beginning. When seven years of age the family home was moved near Bedford, Calhoun county, in the new state of Michigan.

His parents were earnest Christians, the father being an honored deacon in the Congregational church, and Stephen at an early age consecrated himself to the service of the Christ.

Feeling that he was called to the Christian ministry, he decided to make suitable preparation for that honorable calling, and accordingly entered Marietta college.

In 1862 he left college and returned home and enlisted in the 20th Michigan Infantry at Battle Creek. He served through the war and was discharged with honor in 1865.

After his return home from the war he again took up his college studies in preparation for the ministry. February 14, 1868, he was ordained a minister according to Congregational usage.

His first pastorate was at Vicksburg, Mich. While pastor here he was united in marriage with Francis Sophia Brown at Johnstown, Mich.

In 1869 he became pastor of the Congregational church of Columbus, Mich., where he remained five years, organizing the Congregational church of Richmond and building the first church building in the town.

In 1874 he was called to Grandville, Mich., where he remained two years. The church in Mancelona, Mich., called him in 1876, and he remained with them six years. Here, as elsewhere, his labors were richly blessed. The first church building in the place was erected. The needy fields about him appealed strongly to his sympathy and secured his help.

For two years of this pastorate he served the church at Kalkaska and built them a church building. He also organized the churches at Alba and Excelsior. For three years following this pastorate he served the church at Ceresco.

In 1884 he purchased and moved upon a farm near Olivet for the purpose of educating his children. After accomplishing this purpose he sold the farm and purchased a home in Charlotte where he lived until sickness occurred and he was taken to Grand Rapids to the home of his son. During his residence in Charlotte he spent three winters in Tryon, North Carolina, where he supplied the Congregational church.

Two years ago, while visiting in Olivet, he had a light stroke of paralysis, but was able to return to his home in Charlotte.

His death occurred March 26, 1909, and Stephen O. Bryant went to his coronation. The funeral services were held in the Congregational church in Olivet, Monday, March 29th, at 1:30 p. m., and were conducted by Revs. H. H. Van Auken, of Hastings, and F. W. Bush, of Douglas, both of these gentlemen being his friends and co-workers for nearly half a century. The interment was in the Olivet cemetery.

His children are Lewis, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. E. B. Allen, of Toledo. These, with his faithful wife and other kindred and many friends, mourn his loss.

Like his divine Master, he was among men as one who served. He contributed not a little to the world's good. All who knew him unite in paying him the highest tribute that can be paid a man on earth, for they say: "He was a good Christian man."

REPORT OF VISITOR TO OLIVET.

To the Board of Trustees of the State Conference:

Having been appointed by the Conference at its last meeting to visit Olivet College, I spent Sunday and Monday, May 8 and 9, there. My impressions of the college may be briefly given as follows:

There is a fine college spirit among the students. I talked with several students, some of whom I had known before. All were enthusiastic over Olivet. Those who had had some experience in other schools shared this good feeling.

The college has a remarkably strong faculty. Either there are a great many men with Ph. D. degrees from great institutions here and abroad who are glad to teach at Olivet for small pay, or else the President has a genius for getting strong men to work with him for pure love of the work. In any case, President Lancaster has gathered about him a faculty of fine teachers and strong men. I visited a number of class rooms, and so far as I am able to judge, the teaching is of a high order.

The college deserves better support. It has the disadvantages of isolation, being situated in a beautiful but remote village. It is therefore apt to be forgotten by the churches and by men with money looking for a chance to invest in education. A good many men with money also feel that it is not a good place for a college, inasmuch as it is away from the intense life of the day. The students miss the chance to hear and see the talented men and women who visit large cities and university towns. But it has also the manifest advantages of its comparative isolation. There is a chance to build up a distinct and unified college community. The impression of strong teachers upon the plastic minds of young men and women is less apt to be dissipated. There is little to divert students from their work. They will see the world soon enough when they get through college. Four years is not the whole of their life, by any means. The well known superiorities of the country-bred boy or girl over the city-bred may easily belong to the students of Olivet.

Therefore, my conclusion is that the churches and men of money may well turn their attention and interest to Olivet. Compared with the amount of money great universities are now requiring for their running expenses, the needs of Olivet are limited. Many of the single gifts that some colleges receive would furnish her a comfortable endowment. Five hundred thousand dollars could be invested there without detracting materially from the steady flow of gifts to larger institutions of learning in great centers of population. Olivet does not aspire to be a university, but rather to be a high class school for undergraduates where a genuinely scientific and scholarly spirit may be combined with a broadly religious spirit. Such an atmosphere is certainly most wholesome and stimulating for the average boy or girl during the four undergraduate years. There are a great many young men and women in Michigan whose parents would be affording them a very profitable experience at a comparatively small cost if they should send them to Olivet.

But a body of men and women such as the Olivet faculty is made up of cannot surely long be kept together unless enough money is raised to enable the college to pay reasonable salaries. Most of our cities and towns have men in them who might be interested and could give to Olivet if their eyes were turned in that direction. Our churches might also establish an annual Olivet day. The churches do not aspire to control Olivet college to any degree whatever. The policy and the spirit of the college must be abundantly satisfactory to all the churches. But they might, nevertheless, make an annual contribution to the running expenses of the college that would be of material assistance.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON METHODS LOOKING TO INCREASED EFFICIENCY IN CHURCH WORK.

Brethren:—

We regret that the mover of the resolution which lead to the creation of this committee, Dr. G. G. Atkins, has left our state, and so is unable to report as chairman of this committee. In response to a letter asking for his thoughts and plans for the committee we received the following:

"I have been slow in answering your (Dr. Hadden's) letter, but through no lack of good will, either for the Michigan Conference or the cause which our committee represents. I felt in making the motion last spring that it was indefinite and in some ways redundant. The whole object of the church—or one object of the whole church, is to get people to church—why then such a committee?

"Because I think we need a new emphasis on church attendance. We have long been teaching our protestant folks that they are not saved by church going. They have learned that lesson absolutely and perfectly. We in the Congregational church have seemed almost, sometimes, afraid that our people would overdo going to church, and we have advised them to stay away from the second service and rest up. They have taken that advice. The Catholic church has held its people to an actual bodily presence and, allowing for all the difference in authority, something must be allowed with them for the difference in training.

"Might there not be, then, a place for a church attendance propaganda paradoxical as it may seem—even in the church itself—a propaganda which the laymen should largely share and direct? Nowhere is it harder for a pastor to urge the church service upon the people than in the Congregational Church; the pastor is disproportionately so much of that to which he asks the people to come. Can we not seek the wisest base for the whole matter? I had in mind, for example:

"First, the study of proportional church attendance—percentage of members, pew holders—general parishoners, children—possible church going population. A count in Detroit showed us that we were constantly overestimating our congregations, that our percentages were surprisingly small. All this not for discouragement, but for clear vision.

"Second, the creation of a sentiment among the people themselves of a new feeling for the whole thing and that on broad principles, worship, fellowship and the basic fellowship of the church itself. Method: sermon, conferences—prayer meeting discussions, and if possible, conferences between church-going and non-church-going groups of men—also a good kind of tract—forgive the word—contribution. Literature to be prepared by central committee and sent to churches.

"Third, all such changes in order of worship—conduct of service—decoration of church as shall make the whole movement of our worship more attractive. I feel constantly, even in churches where we have ample tools to work with, how difficult it is to give power, inspiration, beauty and reverence in our common worship.

"I know how hard it becomes when the tools are scanty. I have felt sometimes, as I have shared the services of men who were doing so much in hard places, that some of the things might be changed for the better if only we had a conference committee on worship, say, which could make suggestions without seeming officious. Some years ago in Vermont we worked out under the leadership of Dr. Hungerford, a system of order of worship which had a certain basal uniformity, and in which the simplest and the most elaborate order moved in the same direction. There is a place for that. There is a place among our women for something like the altar guild of the Episcopal church. There are green and beautiful things to be had all the year around. If only hemlock and sapling pine, we should seek constantly what beauty there is.

"I do feel that there is a line here which might be followed with real profit. I do not see it clear, but I feel where it ought to go. I have a feeling that we Congregationalists are only moderate churchgoers. That we have made this depend too largely on the minister. Of course it will depend on him, but he can be supplemented, and how much he ought to be supplemented every minister of us knows.

"I think with the greatest joy of my fellowship with the Michigan churches and their great kindness to me. The brevity of my pastorate in Detroit I think of only with pain.

"GAIUS GLENN ATKINS."

Dr. Atkins has suggested some things that deserve our thoughtful consideration.

The church is facing a crisis, an adjustment of its methods and ideas of new conditions, but as never before it faces a glorious opportunity. The church is the divinely appointed agent to keep Jesus Christ ever before the world and to bring in His Kingdom. No other institution can take its place, and its loss or failure would be irreparable. The Rev. John Hunter of Glasgow has said:

"The failure of organized worship means, in the long run, the failure of civilization. The question of a revival of religion is the question of the revival of the progress of civilization. The church is the only producer of civic righteousness. Let us influence the higher life of men, uphold the lines of duty which awake men to noble acts and purer lives, and we need not fear for state or city."

We believe we can improve the efficiency of the churches along two lines:

I. The improvement and standardizing of the church services. While we inherit all things, the Congregational order of services that we have received from England is bare and of a Puritanical simplicity. Yet all things are ours—the wealth of ritual and liturgy, great prayers and soul-kindling anthems, the hymns of the ages, all the creeds and as many more as we wish to make, churchly architecture and decoration, noble music, and all the experiments in organization. But we are now in danger of making a mess of our possessions and being disorderly with our wealth. Each church is a law unto itself and the widest diversity prevails, so that the results are confusing and often inferior to what we might have. Has not the time come to standardize our services? Without inflicting a hard and fast uniformity on ourselves or becoming ritualists, but in the interest of good order, dignity, beauty and power, can we not secure a simple outline and suggest standards of music and responses that will enrich and enoble our regular services, and still leave us all the freedom we inherit, and preserve our liberty of prophesying that is so dear to us. We believe and recommend to this body that such an outline and suggestions should be prepared for the consideration of the churches.

II. A campaign of education and agitation is needed among our people to produce a new appreciation of the value of church going. With enriched service, more impressive architecture and decorations, better quality of music, and more chance for the people to share in the services by responses and hymns—all creating an atmosphere not only of high thought and of peaceful and uplifting emotion, but of stimulus to heart and brain and conscience, the people need to be led to see that they owe it to themselves and their children to be regularly in their places at church service.

Here is a real duty and task. The church is hard beset. The temptation of the well-educated and the well-to-do people to spend Sunday socially, or in pleasure, the temptation of the working people to use it for sport and outdoor life, and the temptation of the corporations to drive the wheels of industry over time and seven days in the week, are great. To impress on people who have escaped the old fear of authority, and the old compulsion of priest and parson, the inestimable value of spending at least once a week a half day in the spiritual atmosphere of Christian worship is the business before us.

Such a propaganda and campaign as Dr. Atkins suggests seems to us wise and practicable, and we recommend that special attention be given to it.

The task of the churches calls for steadiness and regularity in attendance at the church services and meetings. Never was the church trying to do so much and competing so with so many other agencies and interests of its constituency.

The task locally, nationally and world wide of evangelizing all people, the task of keeping clean cut and unmistakable the great ideals of Christian ethics before men, the task of lending a hand to the multitude of good causes that claim the support of church going people, the task of originating and sustaining new ways of fulfilling the mission of the church, in short the task of spiritual and moral leadership in the community, who is sufficient for these things? Now it is evident that this work can only be done by people who regularly assemble themselves together for counsel, fellowship, instruction, and inspiration. An absentee membership is not only disheartening to pastors, but is fatal to the work of the church. The burden of this task demands the presence of Christian men and women at the place where the work is done at the regular services of the church. We ask, therefore, that pastors and teachers and parents emphasize this fact whenever and by all means possible.

Our recommendations then are: First, that a plan of improving, and at the same time unifying the services of the churches be devised. Second, that special emphasis and effort be made to secure greater steadiness and regularity of church attendance on the part of the members of our congregations.

1. Resolved, That, in response to the communication received from Miss Ellen M. Stone, with reference to the reimbursement of those who contributed to the fund for her ransom, the Michigan Congregational Conference in session assembled does hereby urge upon the National House of Representatives the immediate passage of the bill already passed for this purpose by the United States Senate, and now in the hands of the House Committee on Claims.

The Jubilee Fund of $5,000 was constituted by the Board of Trustees of the Michigan Congregational Association from bequest of Mrs. C. L. Ford, of Ann Arbor, with stipulation in bequest that the proceeds thereof should be used for the cause of Home Missions in Michigan. This fund is invested in Jackson (Mich.) Gas Company Bonds Nos. 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, $1,000 each. Due 1937, interest 5 per cent., payable April 1 and November 1.

The C. L. Ford Fund was constituted by the Board of Trustees of the Michigan Congregational Association from bequest of Corydon L. Ford, of Ann Arbor, which made the Association residuary legatee and placed no restrictions upon the use of the proceeds. This fund is invested as follows:

Duluth, Rainy Lake and Winnipeg Railroad Bond, No. 52, for $1,000, due January 1, 1916, interest 5 per cent., payable July 1 and January 1.

Flint (Mich.) Gas Company Gas Bonds, No. 120, $500. Due November 1, 1924, interest 5 per cent., due April 1 and November 1.

La Porte (Ind.) Gas Co. Bond, No. 71, $500, due April 1, 1925, interest 5 per cent., due April 1 and October 1.

Jackson (Mich.) Gas Company bonds, Nos. 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, and 240, $1,000 each, due 1937, interest 5 per cent., payable April 1 and October 1.

Four pieces of real estate in Detroit and five house lots at Des Plaines, Ill., originally belonged to the C. L. Ford fund. Three of the Detroit descriptions have been sold and deeded. The fourth Detroit description was sold to Clark Sackett on contract. There is now a balance of $1,468.66 due on this property. The Detroit property belonging to this fund has been for several years cared for by Mr. Roman A. Bissell, of Detroit, who collects on contracts, and remits to the treasurer monthly. The Des Plaines (Ill.) lots are of very little present value. Responsible parties who are acquainted with the property advise holding the same for a possible increase in value.

The Ministerial Relief Fund was constituted by the Board of Trustees from the bequest of $5,000 of Mrs. C. L. Ford, of Ann Arbor. This was subsequently increased by further bequest of C. L. Ford, of Ann Arbor, and has grown by the surplus of receipts over disbursements. The securities of this fund consist of:

Grand Rapids (Mich.) Gas Company Bond, No. 741, $1,000, due February 1, 1915, interest 5 per cent., due February 1 and August 1.

Jackson (Mich.) Gas Company Bonds, Nos. 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, $1,000 each, due 1937, interest 5 per cent., due April 1 and October 1.

La Porte (Ind.) Gas Company Bonds, Nos. 3, 4 and 5, $500 each. No. 126, $1,000, due April 1, 1925, interest 5 per cent., payable April 1 and November 1.

During the past year an investment of $1,100 of this fund has been made in a mortgage on real estate in the City of Lansing. The property is appraised at $2,200.

The Benzonia Academy Fund was constituted by the gift of Miss Emily B. Dickinson, of Romeo, to the Association in the interest of Benzonia Academy under terms which are given in document in our possession. This fund is invested in Virginia Lumber Co. Bonds, Nos. 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, $1,000 each, due February 1, 1911, interest 6 per cent., payable August 1 and February 1.

The Michigan Congregational Conference also owns property of Old Mission, appraised at $1,200. This property is at present occupied by Rev. Leroy Warren, D. D., formerly Superintendent of Home Missions for Michigan.

The securities above referred to and papers pertaining to real estate belonging to the Association, are in the custody of the treasurer and are deposited in a safety deposit vault of the Lansing State Savings Bank.

I hereby certify that I have examined the books and vouchers of C. A. Gower, Treasurer of the Michigan Congregational Association, and find them to be correct. I have also found that the securities and other papers referred to in the text of this report are in the possession of the Treasurer, as stated.

Lansing, Michigan, May 26, 1910.

FRANK B. MCKIBBIN,
Auditor.

HOME MISSIONARY DEPARTMENT.

Contributions in Detail.

Totals in first column are the apportionments voted by the Conference to the several Associations, and the amounts assigned to individual churches are those voted by the local associations, and the sum of the latter does not necessarily agree with the total at the foot of the column. In the second column, where several payments have been made, the sum only is given. Contributions to the National Society are included. The contributions to the New Work Fund are not included in the amounts credited on the apportionment, but are given separately.

MINUTES OF THE SECOND ANNUAL MEETING OF THE MICHIGAN CONGREGATIONAL BROTHER-
HOOD AT LUDINGTON, JUNE 10th, 1910.

A banquet was served in the church parlors at 6 o'clock to 150 men.

Evening meeting called to order by L. P. Haight, Muskegon, vice-president, in absence of president, Mr. W. H. Strong, Detroit.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The following amendment to constitution was adopted:

To amend article six to read, "Each local brotherhood is expected to make an annual contribution for the expenses of the State Brotherhood."

Secretary's report was read. Eight local brotherhoods were reported enrolled in the State Brotherhood. Fourteen other brotherhoods were reported, though not enrolled in State Brotherhood. Total membership in the local brotherhoods reported was 1,100. Other brotherhoods are in existence, though not reported, and the total report of members is therefore incomplete. Report filed.

Treasurer's report, showing receipts of $8, disbursements of $4.20, and one unpaid bill of stationery, $5.90, was received and filed.

Following officers were elected to serve during the coming year:

President, L. P. Haight, Muskegon.

Vice President, Rev. I. W. Stuart, Alpena.

Secretary-Treasurer, J. L. Gillard, Muskegon.

The part the Brotherhood can do in putting into active operation the great work agitated by the Laymen's Missionary Movement, was discussed by Dr. Hadden, of Muskegon, Rev. M. J. Norton, and Rev. Samuel T. Morris. Prof. T. W. Nadal spoke on the work of Olivet College. One valuable work the Brotherhood can do was pointed out,—that is, providing means for deserving young men to enter the college. It was shown that $50.00 would start a young man in the course, and three young men were provided for in the meeting, and smaller sums pledged to apply toward further work of the same kind.

Rev. I. W. Stuart, of Alpena, told of the good work the Brotherhood was doing in his church.

Rev. D. L. Holbrook, of Union City, gave an address, "The Young Men's Brotherhood in a Small Town." This address was ordered printed in the minutes of the Michigan Congregational Conference.

A vote of thanks was extended to the ladies of the Ludington church for serving, and to the men of the church for being donors of the banquet of the evening.

A vote of thanks was also given the choir of the church, Mrs. L. A. Grayson, Miss Catharine Burt, Mr. Henry T. Haskell, and Mr. Joseph Buck, and Mrs. Fannie Latimer, accompanist, for excellent music rendered during the evening.

Meeting adjourned.

L. P. HAIGHT, President.
J. L. GILLARD, Secretary.

A YOUNG MEN'S BROTHERHOOD IN A SMALL TOWN.

(Address by Rev. David L. Holbrook, of Union City, at Ludington, June 10, 1910.)

These are the facts: Our work was begun independently of the Brotherhood movement, without any preconceived plan, save that of pushing the work of the church among the boys out beyond the field of the Sunday School and the Endeavor Society into the neighboring one of good citizenship. The pastor felt that such an enlargement of scope, though not directed to the ultimate ends for which we are striving, would at least widen the sphere of opportunity by bringing us into touch with some young men and their homes that would otherwise be entirely outside the sphere of our influence.

Accordingly a club was organized on the lyceum plan with the object stated "to cultivate good citizenship in its members." A series of topics on Noted Names in the History of Michigan was taken up week by week during the winter of 1907-8, and some special attention was paid to parliamentary law. Lessons were given in it, and parliamentary contests were held with different members in the chair. Athletics did not enter into our plan, but as the young man who assisted the pastor was proficient with Indian clubs, a class was formed and practice was had before or after the regular meeting. One evening a set of boxing gloves appeared on the scene. By making shift to keep the boxers on the oil cloth (our meetings were in the church parlors), or to get on to an old carpet in an adjoining room, we allowed this to be practiced in a limited way.

At the opening of the second season the president of the club one Saturday evening came to the pastor's study with the somewhat startling question whether he, the pastor, supposed that the church would allow us to take up the carpet and use the church parlor as a gymnasium. Far from being horrified at the thought, the pastor had dreamed of such a thing but had never ventured to suggest it. Meanwhile, without knowing what was in the mind of his coadjutor, he had been preparing a sermon apropos of an impending local option campaign, in which he maintained that if we should close the saloons and bring the pool rooms within legal bounds, it would be necessary further, to provide some social arrangements in the general line of the Young Men's Christian Association work, in order to complete the job of looking after the interests of our boys and young men. The sermon was preached that next morning, but without mention of the specific plan which had in the meantime been suggested. What happened in the next few days almost took away our breath with the speed developed by our old conservative church. On Monday evening the officers of the church in a full meeting heartily endorsed the plan, at the prayer meeting the church with equal heartiness adopted it, on Friday the carpet came up, and on Saturday the boys were playing basket ball in the church parlor under a paid superintendent—all within a week after what my helper called his "crazy idea" had first been suggested. The small parlor was also put into commission as a reading room. It was distinctly understood that this was an experiment—a trial trip, as it were. During the winter months the boys trooped over from school every afternoon. They could not get into the church quick enough. Meanwhile the weekly literary meetings kept on as before with a series of topics on the Territorial Expansion of the United States, and the parliamentary contests and debates.

At the close of this season there was quite a bill of repairs, for the parlor is a plastered room and not designed for a lot of sturdy boys playing basket ball. But the church willingly paid the freight, and then they astonished us further by deciding to build an addition to the church to provide quarters adapted to the growing work and needs of the club. This was done, and on the 21st of December the building was dedicated free from debt. The cost was about $1,300. The building as it stands is 60x30 and contains a gymnasium 45x30, a reading room, a floor space over the reading room open as a gallery to the gymnasium, but utilized also as a cabinet shop, and a basement with furnace. The equipment is very simple, but we would rather not have complete apparatus at the outset, preferring to add new features from time to time and thus stimulate an increasing interest.

During the past two seasons the rooms have been open afternoons and evenings and they have been well patronized by the club members. From ten to thirty boys have been in attendance each time. On Saturday mornings the Boys' Club, a separate organization, has the right of way. There are about twenty-five of them under fifteen years of age. They have regular gymnastic drill and a literary meeting modelled on that of the young men. On certain designated afternoons the High School Athletic Association have had the rooms for the exclusive use of the girls' basket-ball team.

It had been a question whether, after more ample provision had been made for athletics, there would not be a falling off in the literary meetings. But such has not been the case. On the contrary the literary evening has witnessed the largest attendance. The line of topics during the last season has been on The History of Political Parties in the United States.

The present membership is about a hundred. Quite a number of these are already absent or even non-resident. A steady stream of young men is constantly going forth to the large cities. About fifty are in close active connection. Of these the larger part are high school boys. Next come the young men on the neighboring farms who have recently graduated. And lately the young business men of the village are beginning to take an active interest. It looks as if the older men were edging towards the Young Men's Club in a manner to render the organization of a Brotherhood for their special benefit unnecessary. It will thus be seen that our Brotherhood is not one of mature men into which boys may be admitted, but a club of young men into which older men may be admitted if they have enough youth and vitality left to care for the things that interest the boys. Nor, although our work is principally with boys, do we call it a Boys', but a Young Men's Club. We save the other name for those they call the kids. We old fellows like to be called boys, but the boys themselves, when they put on long pants, like to be considered men. The ball nine and the football team of the school are composed of men, if you please. Therefore, it is the Young Men's Club. It has a tail indeed as long as that of the comet, viz., "of the First Congregational Church of Union City, Michigan." But it is the nucleus that counts.

As to the religious work, meetings for men are held from time to time in the rooms of the club, but for the most part it is accounted as a field and a feeder of the Sunday school, the Christian Endeavor Society, and the church. We have flourishing Bible classes of boys and of men, stimulated by the Y. M. C., but not under its auspices. Three or four young men have come into the church out of the membership, but it is impossible to tell how much the club has had to do with the matter.

A word about the ritual is here in order. Although not stated in the constitution, it is implicit in the club's connection with the church that "the cultivation of good citizenship," to be complete, must issue in Christian citizenship. Every business meeting of the club is therefore opened with a short service in which passages from the Proverbs, as being the book of the Bible especially designed for young men, are read, together with passages from the New Testament that point to Christ, and all join in the Lord's Prayer. In the ceremony for the reception of members, while all stand with hands clasped in the fraternal circle, a quotation from the Declaration of Independence is supplemented and carried to a higher plane by a reference to Paul's honor to the powers that be as having their authority from a divine source.

Although the organization has been in existence less than three years, and has had adequate accommodations only during the past season, certain beneficial results are already apparent:

1. There has been a very marked diminution in the attendance of boys at debasing resorts, including the street corners.

2. School teachers and others have remarked on the improvement in the general conduct of the boys.

3. Schoolmates remark the difference between the boys of the club and others in the preliminary business of class meetings.

4. An awakening spirit of public improvement has been helped by debates in the club on local matters, such as a river park and the question of a steel or a cement bridge to replace one swept away in a spring flood.

5. A very important result is that many in the community have gained a different and more favorable view of the church than the one they had before. They have come into touch with the church through their boys in a way that appeals to both their acceptance and their judgment.

It will naturally be asked, how the expense of such a work, involving the employment of a superintendent, is met in a town of only about fifteen hundred population and by one church in that town. Let me say that we do not attempt to run the institution in full force the year round. In this lies an important advantage of a church club in a small town over a Young Men's Christian Association. The latter, in order to operate on the same scale would need to employ a trained secretary. He would have to be paid a living salary, and that the year round. No man competent for the full charge of such a work could be secured on any other terms. But in the case of the church with the pastor back of the work, and himself backed by the officers of the church as advisers, a technically trained manager is unnecessary. During the dull season in a rural community a sufficiently competent Christian young man can be found who will be willing to put in his time afternoons and evenings for a very modest salary. During the warm months the boys are out in the open, and much of the time under the supervision, in their sports, of the school authorities. The expense for a superintendent to keep the rooms open every day and evening is therefore confined to the three or four cold months.

With this proviso, I may say that such a club develops enough extra financial strength and enough earning power of its own to easily take care of its running expenses. Aside from the cost of the building, our club has not been a financial burden to the church, and as the years go on it is likely to become a financial asset of considerable value.

As I said at the outset, we entered upon the work without any preconceived theories. We have been led, and we humbly believe that it is by the Spirit of God, to form an organization which is not the work of a Brotherhood, but which is a Brotherhood. And as such it is enrolled as Chapter 2 in the state organization.

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING.

The Michigan Home Missionary Society convened in its sixteenth annual session, in the First Congregational Church, Ludington, June 10, 1910, with the President of the Society, Rev. Benj. H. Burt, in the chair.

It was voted that the Scribes of the Michigan Congregational Conference, Rev. W. C. Allen and Rev. Fred Roys Bush, act as scribes for the meeting.

Motion made and carried that we adopt the proposed Amendment to Article IV of the Constitution as recorded on page 84 of the 1909 minutes, which was to amend the first two sentences to read, "The officers of this Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer. They shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting of the Society, and shall hold their offices for one year and until their successors shall be elected and qualified."

Moved and carried that the Nominating Committee of the Conference nominate the officers of the Home Missionary Society. The Nominating Committee recommended as officers for the ensuing year as follows:

Rev. Benj. H. Burt, President.

Mr. F. E. Bogart, Vice-President.

Mr. C. A. Gower, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Scribe was instructed to cast the ballot of the Society for the officers nominated and they were declared elected.

The following resolution was adopted:

Be it Resolved, That the Board of Trustees of the Michigan Congregational Conference and its Executive Committee are hereby appointed the agents of this Board for the purpose of applying the funds of this Board to the purposes designated by the donors thereof, or to such other work of the Society as, in their judgment and discretion, may be best for the interests of such work.

The meeting was adjourned.

REV. W. C. ALLEN, Scribe.

REV. FRED ROYS BUSH, Assistant Scribe.

Balance on hand Mrs. L. A. H. Childs Fund.....	1,500 00
" " Nashville Church Property.....	1,500 00	7,617 88

The Nashville Church Property Fund was constituted by the Trustees of the Michigan Home Missionary Society under the terms of contract (in our possession in duplicate) with the trustees of the Nashville Congregational Church upon the dissolution of that organization making the trustees of the Home Missionary Society custodians in trust for a term of fifteen years with the proviso that should a Congregational Church be organized in Nashville within that time, the money should revert to the newly organized church and that at the expiration of the fifteen years the money should be the property of the Michigan Home Missionary Society. During the fifteen years the proceeds to be used in the interest of Home Missions. This fund is invested in Flint (Mich.) Gas Co. Bonds Nos. 83, 113, 119, $500 each, due November 1, 1924, interest 5 per cent., payable May 1 and November 1.

The Mrs. L. A. H. Childs Fund was constituted by the trustees of the Michigan Home Missionary Society from the bequest of Mrs. L. A. H. Childs, of Whittaker, Michigan. While the use of this fund is not restricted, it was the desire of the donor and has been the purpose of the trustees to treat this as a permanent fund, the proceeds of which should be used for Home Missions. This fund has been invested in LaPorte (Ind.) Gas Co. Bonds, Nos. 72, 81, 82, $500 each. Due April 1, 1925, interest 5 per cent, due April 1 and October 1.

I hereby certify that I have examined the books and vouchers of C. A. Gower, treasurer of the Michigan Home Missionary Society, and find them correct. I also find that the securities above referred to are in the possession of the treasurer and are in safe keeping, deposited in a safety deposit box of the Lansing State Savings Bank.

FRANK B. MCKIBBIN,
Auditor.

MINUTES OF THE TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL MEETING
OF THE WOMAN'S HOME MISSIONARY UNION.

The 29th annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Union was declared in session by the president, Mrs. C. R. Wilson, on Wednesday, March 30th, at 9 o'clock, in the Congregational Church of Benton Harbor.

The meeting opened by singing "America" and the printed program was formally adopted for the day.

The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. L. P. Rowland, of Grand Rapids, who took for her theme "The Cross of Christ, Our Hope and Strength." After singing the hymn "The Wonderful Cross," Mrs. Rowland read some selections from "His Life" and brought out some beautiful and helpful thoughts on the strength and joy of the Spirit, then followed prayer and the hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

Very cordial greetings were given by Mrs. C. A. Diefenbach, of Benton Harbor, and a gracious response was given by Mrs. W. A. Mowrer, of Jackson.

The report of the corresponding secretary was given, in her absence, by Miss Harriet Potter, of Detroit. She reported some new auxiliaries and some, of years standing, have ceased to exist, so the total number remains about the same. Miss Finger has been an inspiration. A strong plea was made for a more prompt and careful response to the report-blank sent out. The recording secretary reported two meetings of the Executive Board during the past year. The report of Young People's Work was given by Miss Kirtland, of Jackson. She reported the amount raised as $244.35, an increase over previous years. A plea was made for the Schauffler School. Brief reports were given from Ann Arbor, Detroit, Muskegon and Pontiac on various kinds of Young People's Work.

Mrs. Hammond, of Muskegon, reported on Juvenile Work. She likened the work to the Lord's garden, "The ground is ready, waiting for the seed."

In Mrs. Edward's absence, the report on Literature was given by Mrs. Copeland, of Traverse City. She spoke of good literature, sod-house, mite boxes and also of the program for the Federation of Unions and the "American Missionary."

The president spoke of Mrs. Rowland's faithful and efficient work on National programs.

All these reports were accepted and ordered placed on file.

After listening to a solo by Master David Morgan, of Benton Harbor, Miss Finger, of Chicago, was introduced. The subject of her address was "The Unfinished Task." She spoke of the work begun by our forefathers, carried on all these years and still unfinished; the great need of the Southland, Oklahoma and Texas. Much has been accomplished and much remains to be done. She likened the Church of Jesus Christ to a star that will not go down.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Stoneman, of St. Joseph, showing an increase of about $400.00 over the previous year.

Upon motion the report, with the appended Auditor's report, was accepted.

Mrs. Patton, of Ann Arbor, gave a paper on "Giving." This was full of helpful thoughts and suggestions. "Our women must be educated in the facts of missionary work, and their knowledge will fill them with a desire to have a part in it." "How can we show our love for our country better than by helping to make it purer and more Christlike?" Whether we be rich or poor, we owe part of it to God and our Country. "We should not give once, but continually, proportionately, as we have been prospered. Let it be our prayer that all that is highest and best may be placed before the youth of our land, and that we may be one people, one nation, serving God."

In response to "Roll Call of Auxiliaries" two questions were answered by the delegates. 1st. What is the best thing your society has done this year? 2nd. How much will you aim for, as your apportionment for 1910 and 1911? These responses were helpful and full of suggestions, and the amount pledged was in most cases, as much or more than in the previous year.

At 1:30 the meeting was called to order for the afternoon session. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. George E. Thompson, of Owosso. She spoke very beautifully on the theme, "The Unlighted Luster." This was followed by prayer and song. Miss Anna Larned, of Grand View, Tenn., represented the A. M. A. She told in a most interesting way of her ten years of work among the Highlanders of the Cumberland Mountains. She also spoke of the 5,000 children who have no school advantages, and the great need of educated ministers. A solo by Mrs. Charles Stone was much enjoyed. Then followed an instructive "Demonstration Lesson in Home Mission Text Book" by Miss Finger. Among other things she urged attendance at the conference at Lake Wenona, June 23-30. She also spoke of the Negro question, the color only on the surface, their hearts are like ours and they are naturally religious and practical. The little churches of the Southland need help and a concerted effort must be made to make this people worthy of citizenship.

The report of the Trustees was given by Mrs. Powell. On motion this was accepted and ordered placed on file.

Mrs. Powell then presented the proposed changes in the Constitution which were adopted.

An invitation to hold the next meeting in Lansing was accepted.

The Executive Board recommended that the percentage plan be re-adopted for the coming year. On motion this was carried. Mrs. Firman, President of National Association, sent greetings.

The minutes of the meeting were read, and the secretary was authorized to complete the same for publication.

Mrs. Wilson closed the meeting with some beautiful thoughts on the theme, "What is really worth while."

The evening session was opened by Rev. A. H. Stoneman, of St. Joseph, who had charge of the devotional service. Two very striking and forceful addresses were given on "The Church Militant." The first, by the Rev. J. W. Sutherland, of Lansing, on the Country Church. "In order," he said, "to obtain the best results in the country, it is imperative that the ministers be trained especially for country work." "There must be unity of the Christian forces if we hope to make an impression on the people outside the church."

Rev. W. A. Bartlett, of Chicago, described the condition of the city church. From his experience in the city he has drawn the belief that the church should be everything to the community, the radiating center of all lines of human interest and human endeavor. In closing he said "The Gospel of Jesus Christ and Him crucified, is what we must preach."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. W. WAGNER,
Recording Secretary.

THE STATISTICS.

JANUARY 1, 1909 — JANUARY 1, 1910.

The tables which follow comprise:

1. The usual statistics of pastoral supply, membership, admissions, removals, baptisms, families, Sunday schools, Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor, benevolences, legacies, and home expenditures. These tables are made to conform to those of the Year Book. Names of ministers not connected with any Congregational association in Michigan are enclosed in brackets. The column specifying churches is corrected to date of meeting of the Conference, and conforms to the Registrar's report. (See Document A.)
